

MUSIC MIND GAMES

Teacher Development Workshop with Michiko Yurko

An excellent professional development opportunity with certification in 60 theory games!

All Theory Games...

- Are uniquely designed so students learn to be supportive of each other rather than competitive
- Encourage working together for a common goal
- Give students an experience of joyful and natural, playful learning
- Allow time to learn in an environment where everyone wins

Our games help students to...

- Be empowered to learn rather than be taught
- Relax and learn faster
- Feel a sense of progress and accomplishment
- Enjoy repetition, which is fundamental to learning
- Learn to follow directions
- Develop quick and dependable memories
- Work in groups in a non-competitive way
- Not expect gifts or rewards for right answers
- Learn to figure out answers again if necessary
- Respect their teachers and fellow students

Our games help teachers to...

- Personally relate to students
- Evaluate comprehension and track progress without testing
- Hold students' attention

Our Materials...work with our games to engage all learning strengths:

- Visual
- Oral
- Kinesthetic

Music Mind Games is a company founded by Michiko Yurko. It all began in 1979 when she published her first book, No H in Snake, with Alfred Publishing Company. Music Mind Games includes:

- Clever, exciting games
- Fun and attractive materials
- An innovative curriculum

These work together to teach music theory and create music literacy like never before!

Teachers and parents all over the world love this unique approach, the creative games, and the attractive products. Music Mind Games are used in individual studio lessons, studio group classes, classrooms, workshops, choirs and in homes.
